Stirling, May 31.

THIS Day on the Arrival of the joyful News of her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs of Wales being happily deliver'd of a Prince, the great Guns were firſt fired from the Caſtle, then the Military quarter'd here fired their ſmall Arms; and afterwards the Magiſtrates, with the Officers of the Military, and other Perſons of Diſtinction in the Town, met in the Town-houſe, and ſolemnized the Day with all Demonſtrations of Joy ſuitable to the Occaſion.

Edinburgh, June 6. Laſt Thurſday the Officers in the Cannongate Regiment, cauſed the two Corporals who made the Diſturbance laſt Week in this City, to be ſeverely whipt and degraded. While theſe Gentlemen are ſo careful of good Order and Diſcipline, no good Subject need be afraid any of the Military will dare to inſult him, or act a Part unbecoming their Character and Station.

Yeſterday being the Anniverſary of George Heriot, who made ſuch a noble Foundation in this City for maintaining and educating poor Children, the Rev. Mr. Robert Wallace preached an excellent Sermon on Luke, Chap. xiv. Ver. 12, 13, 14. He recommended Charity and a friendly kind Diſpoſition in ſuch warm and winning Language, that every Hearer was ſenſibly affected with the Juſtneſs, Beauty and Eloquence of his fine Diſcourſe.

IRELAND.

Kinſale, June 2. Some Time ago Capt. John Maddox, Commander of the Charming Sally, of Briſtol, in his Paſſage home from Guiney and Jamaica, about 300 Leagues Weſtward of Ireland, unfortunately ſtruck againſt a Grampus of a prodigious Size; which was, as ſuppoſed, ſleeping. The Ship gave a terrible Bounce, ſurpriz'd all the Hands, and overſet Cheſts, &c. in the Cabbin and between Decks. As it was by Day, they plainly ſaw the Fiſh, and believe the Ship's Keel, when ſhe ran over it, cut it in a very terrible Manner, the Sea being all ſtained with his Blood. The Wind being very high, the Seas lofty, and the Ship ſcudding under her fore Courſe, riffed, they ſoon got out of the Sight thereof; but before they loſt Sight of it, they did not obſerve the Creature to be in any Motion, ſo that it is ſuppos'd he was mortally wounded or kill'd.

The Ship immediately complain'd; and upon finding her to make Water very faſt, they broke up part of her Ceiling, and diſcovered the Hood Ends give Way, and her Bows all open: To prevent foundering, they ſtuff'd in Pieces of Beef and Pork between the Planks and Stem, in order to preſerve Life; and ſo by continual Pumping, kept her above Water for 5 Days; at which Time the Men were quite ſpent, with hard Labour and Deſpair; but then, happily eſpy'd a Sail, which they made up to, found her to be a Sloop from Portugal, bound to Cork. Capt. Maddox had juſt Time to bring off his Gold and Gold Duſt, and ſome Proviſions for his Men, till their Arrival at Cork, where, to their great Comfort, they arrived in a few Days.

Athy, June 4. Laſt Thurſday two Troopers of Capt. Madden's Troop fought a Duel, and fired two Shots each; but neither of them received any Hurt.

Yeſterday two others of the ſame Troop fought, and fired two Shots each; but one of them received a Ball in his Breaſt, which lodg'd in his Shoulder, of which he lies dangerouſly ill.

Trim, June 4. Laſt Tueſday the Houſe of Mr. Fitz Simons was conſum'd to Aſhes, it is ſuppos'd it was ſet on Fire by ſome malicious Perſons. It was burn'd to the Ground about 12 Months ago. He immediately rebuilt it: And it was ſince attempted to be ſet on Fire 3 or 4 Times. As he is a Man of an exceeding good Character, he is greatly lamented.

Dublin, June 6. Yeſterday Col Legonier's Horſe relieved the Dragoons who were on Duty in this Town, and marched the ſame Day into Country Quarters.

Same Day Mr. Corr was brought to the King's Bench, in order to have his Caſe argued; but it was put off till Tueſday ſe'nnight, when the Arguments on the Points of Law are to be heard: The firſt of which is, whether Betteridge had a Power of commanding the Army.

Laſt Sunday the Right Hon. the Earl of Meath embark'd for England.

Laſt Saturday was married —— Bonnam, Eſq; to Miſs Warren, a Lady of fine Accompliſhments, with 3000 l. Fortune.

Laſt Week died at his Seat in the County of Tipperary, Col. Henry Pritty, a Gentleman of an extraordinary good Character, and very much eſteemed in that Country.

Yeſterday one Mrs. Cuningham, a Priſoner in the City Marſhalſea, having ſome Words with another Priſoner, one Mrs. Cary, who formerly kept a Grocer's Shop in Thomas-ſtreet; the former having a Noggin with Water in her Hand, flung the Water at the other, who immediately ſnapping the Noggin out of Mrs. Cuningham's Hand, hit her a Blow with it on the Temple, of which ſhe immediately died, and Mrs. Cary was committed to Newgate by the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor. The Coroner's Inqueſt ſate upon the Body laſt Night, and brought in their Verdict, Willful Murder.

The ſame Day the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor committed ſeveral Perſons to Newgate for playing at Foot Ball in Oxmantown Green.

We hear from Loughrea, that on Thurſday laſt at Night, the Collector's Houſe had like to have been robbed by Perſons unknown, who broke open his Cellar, in which were four Hogſheads of Brandy which had been ſeized by the Cuſtom-houſe Officers and were condemn'd. They had in the Cellar a lighted Turf in a Noggin, and were boring a Hole in one of the Hogſheads, when the People of the Houſe heard them and cry'd out Fire, on which the Rogues made their Eſcape, but in their Hurry left the Noggin and the Iron with which they were boring the Hogſhead behind them. Mr. Power, one of his Majeſty's Juſtices of the Peace, came there next Morning, and made Enquiry into the Matter, and found out thoſe who the Iron and Noggin belonged to, who upon their Examination prevaricated ſo much, that very ſtrong Circumſtances appearing againſt them, they were ſent to his Majeſty's Gaol of Galway; and it is hoped that by Means of thoſe Perſons already apprehended, the whole Affair will ſoon come to Light.

When the Grand Vizier's Officers were inform'd of the Approach of the Grand Seignior, they went a Quarter of a League from the Camp to meet him, when they made 3 Proſtrations before his Highneſs, and then preceded him to the Camp, each Man carrying in his Hand a little Pot of Perfumes. The Miniſters of the Porte advanced 400 Paces from the Grand Vizier's Tent, and after having likewiſe made 3 Proſtrations with their Faces to the Ground, they alſo went before the Grand Seignior to the Camp. As ſoon as his Highneſs was come in ſight of the Grand Vizier's Tent, the Curtains were open'd, and the Prime Miniſter, who was ſitting all alone, roſe and advanced 200 Paces, and after having proſtrated himſelf three Times, went alſo before his Highneſs into the Tent. As ſoon as the Grand Seignior was enter'd it the Curtains were cloſed, and his Highneſs ſpent the whole Day there with the Keſſer Aga and the Grand Vizier, without any other Miniſter of the Porte's having a Share in their Converſation. On the 18th, the Ambaſſador of France being indiſpoſed, ſent his Secretary to the Grand Vizier's Camp to wiſh him a happy Journey; and two Days after, the Ambaſſadors of England and Venice went one after another, to pay the Grand Vizier a Viſit; as did on the Day following the Ambaſſador of Holland, and the Miniſter of Sweden: And on the 24th of the ſame Month the ſaid Prime Miniſter march'd with his Army for Adrianople.

Letters of the 27th ult. O. S from Vienna, confirm the Surrender of the Poſt of Mcadia to the Turks by Capitulation. Colonel Picolomini who commanded there, defended the Place ſeveral Weeks with the utmoſt Intrepidity; but the Enemy being ſo ſuperior in Number that he could hold it out no longer, and fore-

They give out at Vienna, that the last Courier from Constantinople has brought Advice, that several Ships coming from Asia, with considerable Sums on board for the Grand Seignior's Chest, were all cast away in the Archipelago by a terrible Tempest.

The Sardinian Minister, notwithstanding what has been said, frequents the Court of Vienna as much as ever; and Count Seckendorff's Affair is still in the same Situation, a Secret to the Publick.

THE History of Popery, by several Gentlemen; being a full and genuine Account, both of the Doctrines and Practice of the Papists, from the Primitive Ages of Christianity, gradually carried on to the End of the Council of Trent. This Work takes in all that is material of what was published in the Reigns of King Charles and King James the Second. Wrote

By HENRY CARR, Gent.

And it is worth Observation, that all the Writers that have appeared in Defence of Popery, not one of them have ventured to reply to this Book any other way than by arraigning and condemning the Author of it, which was done at the King's Bench in the Guildhall of the City of London, by Judge Jefferies. To which are added, many curious Observations vouch'd by unquestionable Authorities, both of Papist and Protestant Writers. The Whole being dispos'd in a regular, concise, and familiar Manner. Adapted for the Entertainment of the more judicious Part of Mankind, and People of a lower Rank and Capacity may thereby be furnished to oppose the artful Sophistry of Priests and Jesuits, which are here trac'd thro' the darkest and most intricate Mazes of that Mystery of Iniquity, and the daring Insolence of the Bishops of Rome, in deposing Emperors and Kings at their Pleasure; with a brief Account of the Lives of all the Popes, the Celibacy of the Clergy, of their Maties, their Councils, Canons, Decrees, Schisms, Saints, Crosses, Crucifixes, Reliques, Images, Pilgrimages, Auricular Confession, Peter-Pence, Indulgencies, Traditions, Rule of Faith, Scriptures, Index, Expurgatorious, Visible Church, Election of Popes and Cardinals, Kissing the Popes Feet, Pope Joan, Thomas a Burket, Transubstantiation, Purgatory, Curses and Cruelties on Wickliffe, Huss, Sir John Oldcastle, Luther, and many Thousands of other faithful Martyrs, together with a true Relation of all the other horrible and detestable Idolatries and Cruelties practised by the Church of Rome, attempted and carried on in Great Britain and Ireland, as well as in Foreign Countries, are all treated of at large with Copper-Plates.

To which is added,

An Abridgment of the History of the Reformation, and of the Persecution in Queen Mary's Reign, chiefly extracted from Thuanus, Fox, Slaidan, Burnet, Strype, and others. By the Authors of the History of Popery.
